

JUSTICE (and humor) FOR ALL

(A monthly humorletter) January 1999

This humorletter contains both clean original humor as well as clean bits of humor that have found their way to me via Email. Many times the original author is unknown so if you read something here that you find very funny it's OK to assume that I wrote it.

You have my permission to reproduce and distribute any items you'd like as well as the entire humor letter just so long as you are doing it for free and not for profit.- Enjoy!

Humor and Training Tip #24

Tom Antion tells me that he loves to pepper the audience with "plants" that have been prepared beforehand to act on cue.

It could be as simple as reading a note that's brought to him during his presentation. "There's a 1999 Red Porsche in the lot with it's lights on would the owner please go and turn them off." On cue fifteen people will get up and start heading for the exit.

Tom says these bits never fail to get a good laugh from the audience and bond him with the participants.

Humor Tip #23

For Christmas my wife received, from me, a magnetic poem kit. This consists of words printed on magnetic backing which will stick to your refrigerator.

We'll randomly pick ten words and see who can come up with the funniest sentence. It's always fun to check the fridge to see the latest endeavor.

We get my ten-year-old daughter involved to stimulate her creativity. She loves the challenge of topping the folks and many times she does!

Ad-Libs for Speakers and Trainers

When someone gets up to leave during your presentation, very innocently say "I'm not finished."

You start your presentation and the mike is dead, say "They must have bought this from a mime!"
