

JUSTICE (and humor) FOR ALL

(A monthly humorletter) May 1999

This humorletter contains both clean original humor as well as clean bits of humor that have found their way to me via Email. Many times the original author is unknown so if you read something here that you find very funny it's OK to assume that I wrote it.

You have my permission to reproduce and distribute any items you'd like as well as the entire humor letter just so long as you are doing it for free and not for profit.- Enjoy!

Why Me?

One BellSouth vice president commented to me at a recent keynote, "Bringing you into our meetings does two things. It lets our people know it's OK to laugh during work hours but more importantly, it says that we care about them."

Things To Ponder

All those who believe in telekinesis, raise my hand.

OK, so what's the speed of dark?

How do you tell when you run out of invisible ink?

Many people quit looking for work when they find a job.

What happens if you get scared half to death twice?

I'm a vegetarian. Not because I love animals but because I can't stand vegetables.

My mechanic couldn't repair my brakes, so he made the horn louder.

Humor and Training Tip #27

A great Bob Pike method of picking group leaders is to have one person in each group volunteer. Make a point of stating that volunteers are rewarded.

Once each group has a volunteer, have that person place his/her right hand on the shoulder of the person on their right. When this is done tell them, "You've just picked your new group leader"!

I use this method in all of my workshops and it never fails to get uproarious laughter.

Humor Tip #26

Have you had no success getting your calls returned from certain people? Try doing what Pat from TRC Staffing Services, Inc. does. She sends them an anniversary card!

Inside she writes, "This is the six-month anniversary of my trying to get your attention. Please call."

This trick never fails to get a return call.

Tips From Mega Networking #3

Create a "Target Advocate List" of 25 of the most important people who could positively affect your business. Once you identify them, never let more than 30 days go by without them hearing from you.
